Monitor's Last Community Meeting in Humboldt Park

More than 50 people took part in the Humboldt Park community meeting in late February. They shared their thoughts about the department's efforts to connect with the community, its vulnerable populations, and Chicago's youth. The discussion also covered police accountability, officer-involved shootings, policy development and the need to build trust between officers and community members. This type of community feedback is vital for the Independent Monitor to determine if CPD is complying with the judge's order to reform.

Stay Up to Date on CPD's Progress

Monitor Hickey releases a CPD compliance report every six months. The next report will be released later this year.

Independent Monitor's First Report on CPD's Reform Efforts

- CPD was in Preliminary Compliance with 15 of the 52 Court Mandates
- CPD was not in Compliance with 37 of the Court Mandates
- CPD met 13 of its 50 Deadlines for the first Reporting Period

The next report will provide an update on the first 67 mandates and review 60 new ones.

What is the Consent Decree?

The Consent Decree is a 229-page order from a federal judge mandating the Chicago Police Department reform many of its practices, including treating people with dignity and respect regardless of race, age, or gender and using force only when it is necessary and justified. Some of the other court mandates will help achieve those goals: new training, improved supervision, and holding officers accountable for any misconduct.
